

Lisbon Docs

Doclisboa, 5. Lisbon International Documentary Film Festival, October 18 – 28, 2007

Lisbon Docs: October 23 – 27, 2007

Lisbon Docs is an international forum for co-productions and funding for documentary films that is held simultaneously along with the Doclisboa Festival.

This initiative's objectives include:

- Consolidating an international platform that serves as a regular meeting point for producers and documentary filmmakers and representatives from national and foreign television channels
- Developing new projects and establishing partnerships between European producers.

Lisbon Docs is primarily aimed at Portuguese and foreign producers/directors who are developing documentary projects about any theme, with real international potential, who seek European co-producers and funding from national and foreign television channels.

Lisbon Docs consists of:

- a workshop for producers
- a public pitching session
- a masterclass
- screenings

Lisbon Docs is held in partnership with the European Documentary Network (EDN) within the scope of the "Documentaries in Southern Europe" programme.
